OAR MOBILIZED FOR AID TO QUAKE VICTIMS

SSC FATHER PRESIDENT ON ST. AUGUSTINE'S RELEVANCE TO THE CONTEMPORARY TIMES

A well-organized short talk on the life and gifts of St. Augustine characterized the brief address of Fr. Lauro Larlar, OAR, SSC President, when he addressed students and faculty members in a 45-minute conference on August 15, at the SSC Little Theatre.

Introducing his talks by presenting a comprehensive profile of the great saint, the SSC President went to delve into the problems of St. Augustine, whom he introduced as the Man of the 4th Century.

An analysis of these problems, personal and otherwise followed, and then he linked this into our present time, and pointed out the commonality of the problems of that man of the 4th Century, with our problems - we of the 20th century.

Recapping his message, Fr. Larlar then cited the gifts of St. Augustine as the answer to the problems that through the centuries have been plaguing men.

The restlessness of the youth, he said is one such problems, brought about by ambition. The need for friendship, or community co-existence is another problem we cannot ignore. The conversion of the individual, which Fr. Larlar explained as not a one time experience, but rather a continuous process with a definite goal for the individual, and finally, giving man his freedom.

In conclusion, the Father cited the San Sebastian as recipients of these, by giving specific examples, specially in terms of the students' restlessness, and his need for freedom, which this institution has been very much aware of.

This short conference or symposium on St. Augustine, more or less signaled the start of this year's observance of the feast of St. Augustine which is a living spirit within the San Sebastian Community.

After 25 Years of Priesthood . . . . . The VICAR PROVINCIAL

Fr. Victor Lluch

In God's reckoning 25 years of religious life and priesthood may just be an insignificant dot in His "divine comedy." But by a man's standard 25 years is a huge slice of human life, a long journey of faith immersed in the mystery of a divine gift.

Occasions like a silver jubilee celebration help us to realize and appreciate the gift and the depth of the mystery.

After 25 years I feel like a runner winning a marathon or like a mountain climber happily surviving the cliffs and rough heights looking back at their sojourn with feelings of triumph and fulfillment. I too can look back at my personal journey with a smile. After 25 years I can say I like being what I am an Augustinian Recollect priest.

Reading Fr. F. Gerry's "Reflections on Ministry at Mid-life" I cannot help but feel inspired and find relevance for the occasion in sharing his sentiments and reflections:

... that to be a priest is to prize what is human and to celebrate its sacredness;

... to be a priest is to be a sign - to be entrusted with sacred symbols of the community - being a carrier of a healing power, a reconciling word, a bread that makes us one body, one spirit;

... that a priest should be known not only in his ministry but also in his priestness;
... that a priest although easily accepted into homes, families and gatherings (and should be grateful for this) should accept the fact that there is something about him that stamps him as different;

... that a priest needs to be gifted with trust - to be allowed to touch the vulnerability and needs of the people;

... that a great deal goes into the making of a priest. He is loved by his family and friends, by the community that ordains and supports him. But all of this love is only like the wave that breaks the surface or laps the shoreline; the full reality is deep and moving like the ocean, vast and of the great beyond. A priest does not need to know this love simply to be able to love himself but needs to know to enable others discover their own true lovable-ness, this requires a lot of courage and compassion, for whoever would dare to hold on to such an image will surely pay the price for it - as Christ showed us."

Let this silver jubilee celebration be not only an opportune occasion but also our thousand reasons to thank God the Almighty for authoring the gift of my and all others vocation of priesthood; moreover, let it be a cherished moment to thank and proudly acknowledge the Augustinian Recollect Order for the nourishment and protection of the same vocation.

Likewise I cannot thank enough yet feel so proud of my brothers, sisters, cousins, relatives, friends and co-religious of The Augustinian Recollect Order and the A.R. sisters who have accompanied me all these years with their moral support and prayers

Let our togetherness through this Eucharistic Celebration be our sincere act of thanksgiving to the Lord for the singular path of religious life and priesthood, begging Him for more vocations not only for Iligan but especially for places where they are most needed, praying and hoping that the service of all Religious and priests bring greater glory to God and lasting job to Holy Mother the Church.

In closing, let me convey my special thanks to chairman and members of the Executive Committee, and all friends, classmates, relatives and Iliganons whose generosity, sleepless nights and untold efforts made this celebration an affair to remember.

"He knows that what we give thanks for, after 25 years of priestly living, is the inner history that is definition and destiny - and in priesthood the most difficult offering of all; is willingly to stoop down the doorway of daily, seeing it as a passage to one's destiny - to the mystery of the living God."

In Christ,

FR. VICTOR LLUCH, O.A.R.

BAGUIO SEMINARIO MAYOR - Quake aftermath

The Recoletos community in Baguio was not spared from the killer quake last July 16. Badly hit was the new extension building on the right wing of the seminary.

Although no casualty was reported, the psychological impact on the seminarians and the fathers was somehow very much felt. To forestall any impending consequent difficulties - food shortage, lack of water supply, continuous aftershocks, epidemics, the Baguio seminarians, as decided by the Baguio formation were sent home, and the seminary tentatively closed.

Presently, the 3rd and 4th year seminarians are back in the seminary while the 1st and the 2nd years have been distributed throughout the OAR schools all over the country, where they are now studying.

Repairs are currently being done at the Baguio seminary upon the recommendation of engineers who visited the place for inspection.

TEACHERS' DAY - A surprise package from the SSC Student Government.

The SSC Student Government in a very guarded manner, planned and staged its surprise package last March 7, 1990, at the SSC Auditorium with invitations going to all the faculty members of the Institutes of Liberal Arts and Commerce during "Teachers' Day."

The idea behind the occasion was taking a day off, and make way for expressing the studentry's appreciation for the efforts of their various professors, whose role in the classroom, did not go unnoticed.

As each faculty member was being presented the Certificate of Appreciation, a voice track of a random interview with one of the teacher's students was being played. The interview, pre-recorded for the occasion was a simple, one-question affair: "What do you think, or what can you say about (name of teacher). In response, the student gives his brief and spontaneous estimate of the said teachers.

All in all, it was fun, for both the faculty members and the students, who filled the auditorium up to the balcony. There were a number of negative comments, but kudos for the faculty members concerned who rolled with the blows, so to speak.

Father President Lauro Larlar, OAR, opened the proceedings, and in his opening remarks, citing a portion from the writings of the late Pope Paul VI to the effect that the faculty members must realize that the school depends on them mainly to pursue and carry out all the institution's programs and goals.

The presentation was made possible through the efforts of the Supreme Student Government of San Sebastian College, led by then incumbent President, Bernard Masilang, backed up by his enthusiastic and active members.

the faculty members to live comfortably in the face of the present economic conditions, job description, the completion of the faculty manuals, and the creation of a more healthy physical environment in the school.
